Jack Anderson column:

Washington Whirl

Klan crows - When the FBI's resident intellectual, William Sullivan, was forced out by imperious old J. Edgar Hoover, even some of Hoover's most loyal allies were distressed. But removal of the capable No. 3 FBI official brought applause from Ku Klux Klan "Wizard" Robert M. Shelton. "We must commend Mr. Hoover's stand against Sullivan," crowed Shelton in the Klan's smear sheet. It was Sullivan's vigorous intelligence work which brought the Klan to its present low estate.
